About the Collaboration for Justice:

Chicago Appleseed Fund for Justice is a social impact research and advocacy organization that identifies community injustices, conducts research necessary to develop proposed solutions, and advocates for their implementation. Chicago Council of Lawyers is the public interest reform bar association which advocates for a fair and effective administration of justice.

Together, the two organizations comprise the Collaboration for Justice, focusing on the areas of Criminal Justice Reform, Administration of Justice and Court Reform, Immigration Court Reform, and Family Law. The Chicago Council of Lawyers works independently of Chicago Appleseed in its efforts to evaluate judges for the purpose of educating voters.

Advisory Committees

Our Advisory Committees oversee our projects, whether they are conducted by staff, pro bono counsel, or a combination. Members also assist in conducting projects, identifying systemic issues, considering ways to use national and local research in developing proposed solutions for Cook County, and preparing policy and editorial statements.
